Such transfers will only be used to maintain the efficient operational capacity of the organisation. Unless the employee agrees to extend such transfers for more than a maximum of one roster and such transfer is only used to maintain the efficient operational capacity of the MFB, then employees who are transferred shall be paid rostering penalties.

In circumstances where transfers across platoons are necessary the MFB will notify employees of any vacant positions across the platoons by email and employees are entitled to apply for a transfer across platoons to fill vacant positions.

If there is a vacancy then when filling the vacancy, the MFB will have regard to any applications from employees as provided for above and the following:

MINIMUM CREWING

Formatted: Highlight

At the commencement of each shift the MFESB employee crewing shall be in accordance with the attached Chart with the following variations:

Commanders Location

Central, Western, Northern, and Southern Zone shall each have a Commander on Duty and on shift as per the minimum crewing chart (attached). However no more than two SSOs may be acted up into Commander positions at no more than two of the above four Commander locations at any time.

Senior Station Officer Stations:

Stations 1, 7, 25, 35, 38 and 44 shall have a substantive Senior Station Officer on duty and on shift.

Other stations designated as Senior Station Officer Stations shall have, as a minimum, a substantive Station Officer on duty and on shift acting as the Senior Station Officer.

Stations 1, 7, 25 and 44 shall also have a substantive Station Officer on duty and on shift.

Station 1 shall also have a substantive Station Officer designated as the works officer on duty and on shift.

Command Levels – Fire Appliances

Any appliance that is designated on the attached chart as normally under the command of a Senior Station Officer may be commanded by a Station Officer (substantive) except where paragraph 3(c) below applies.

Any appliance that is designated on the attached chart as normally under the command of a Station Officer may be commanded by a Leading Firefighter (substantive).

A Leading Firefighter may command an appliance that is designated as a Senior Station Officer appliance on a non urgent move up to a station where such station is normally under the command of a Station Officer.

Any appliance that is normally under the command of a Leading Firefighter may in the absence of the Leading Firefighter be commanded by: -

- i) Senior Firefighter (Qualified to Leading Firefighter) or
- ii) Qualified Firefighter (Qualified to Leading Firefighter), or
- iii) Senior Firefighter who has successfully completed an assessment in Command and Control.

A Leading Firefighter may be in charge of a Fire Duty/Watching Duty provided that only one appliance is assigned to said fire (watching) duty.

Flexible Crewing:

In Shift Emergency:

An 'In Shift Emergency' occurs when a member of the Brigade who is on duty is required to book off duty on Sick Leave, Carer's Leave, Pressing Necessity Leave etc with such urgency that is not practical to await for a standby to arrive at the duty station.

During an 'In Shift Emergency' the appliance will remain in commission with a reduced crew until such time as a standby can be effected and an extra MFESB primary appliance shall be responded to all calls attended by the effected appliance.

If all Zones are on Minimum Crewing and an 'In Shift Emergency' occurs Pumpers at other than 1, 7, 25, 35 & 44 may be reduced to a crew of three to facilitate a standby to the effected appliance while arrangements are made to recall a firefighter which will be immediately initiated.

Overall Crewing Requirement:

To ensure MFESB employee capability to meet the crewing and command levels designated in this Executive Directive and other activities there shall be an all inclusive number of employees as follows:

14 ACFOs
63 Commanders
93 SSOs
308 Station Officers
1177 Leading firefighters

Appliance Availability:

There shall be a minimum of four rescue units and four aerial appliances in commission at any time. In the event that a further unit becomes unserviceable mechanical staff will immediately be recalled to affect repairs and restore the minimum number to four.

Out of Service Appliance Considerations

Appliances temporarily out of service due to breakdown and unable to be replaced during that shift (e.g. two Rescue Units broken down) shall result in the out of service appliance staff being deployed as additional staff on other appliances (i.e 3rd person on rescue etc). The overall minimum crewing requirements must be maintained whilst the appliance is out of service.

Retaining

In the event that insufficient personnel present for duty at the commencement of any shift, sufficient personnel, at the appropriate rank/s, to make up the discrepancy will be retained from the off going shift and subsequently relieved by recall, at appropriate rank/s of off duty staff.

Excess of Minimum Crewing

The CFO may elect to use additional staff above minimum crewing to crew other or additional appliances as per the requirements of the Director Operational or Senior Duty Officer. This decision shall be made giving due consideration to the risk environment, operational activity and or the special circumstance.

Emergency Move Up:

Nothing in this directive shall restrict the dispatch of crewed appliances to move up to provide fire cover in an emergency.

This Executive Directive is to be placed in the Brigade Order Book section of the Standard Procedures Manual (Volume 4) immediately following the General Orders.

	Table 3: MFB specific requirements in the Training Framework	14
	Table 4: PSTP competency standards encompassing MFB specific requirements	15

1. Introduction

The purpose of this Emergency Response Training Framework report is to document the MFB's transition into an operational training system that delivers the requirements of relevant fire industry competency standards in the Public Safety Training Package (PSTP).

This report is the culmination of extensive background work undertaken to align the existing MFESB Training Framework 1999 to PSTP competency standards. Key stages involved in developing the new Framework included:

- An initial alignment process undertaken by expert training and subject matter expert staff within the MFB
- Consultation with relevant industry peak bodies,
- Validation of the draft alignment process by an independent external consultant

Key outcomes of the alignment project have included:

- a transition from the National Fire Industry Modular Training Framework (AFC's) to the PSTP
- an agreed Emergency Response Training Framework that reflects recognised industry standards
- comprehensive detail around competency requirements expected at each rank level within the MFB, together with training pathways required for career progression
- the provision of qualification pathways that assist MFB operational staff to achieve qualifications deliverable within the PSTP

With the exception of the workplace training and assessment competency standards, the proposed new framework requires some changes to existing training programs delivered within the MFB. The transition process will not require any changes to existing course structures, however there are likely to be some changes required to delivery and assessment strategies currently used in promotional courses.

MFB specific components required in the delivery of each competency standard have also been identified in this process and documented in the Framework.

2. The Emergency Response Training Framework

This Emergency Response Training Framework is based on the Public Safety Training Package (PSTP), Fire sector qualifications. The transition from the previous Framework is represented in the following table.

AQF	National Modular Training Framework	PSTP Fire Sector Qualifications
Certificate II	2204AAA Certificate II in Firefighting Operations (Public Administration)	PUA20601 Certificate II in Public Safety (Firefighting and Emergency Operations)
Certificate III	2304AAA Certificate III in Firefighting Operations (Public Administration)	PUA30601 Certificate III in Public Safety (Firefighting and Emergency Operations)
Certificate IV	2404AAA Certificate VI in Firefighting Operations (Public Administration)	PUA40301 Certificate IV in Public Safety (Firefighting Supervision)
Diploma	2504AAA Diploma of Firefighting Management (Public Administration)	PUA50501 Diploma of Public Safety (Firefighting Management)
Advanced Diploma	2604AAA Advanced Diploma of Firefighting Management (Public Administration)	PUA60501 Advanced Diploma of Public Safety (Firefighting Management)

The developmental phases involved in arriving at the Framework have included:

- Development of a draft alignment between the existing modular training framework and the PSTP fire sector qualifications
- Identification of gaps between the Australian Fire Competencies and the PSTP fire sector qualifications
- Development of a draft proposed alignments between the existing AFC and the PSTP fire Sector qualifications for promotional programs
- Development of a proposed training framework for the PSTP fire sector qualifications with the MFB promotional programs

- Identification of MFB specific training requirements in the proposed training framework
- Validation by an external consultant
- Establishment of a deeming process and a strategy for implementation of this process

Delivering the PSTP competencies

In adopting the Emergency Response Training Framework it is critical that the MFB deliver this training in a manner that adheres to the requirements set out in the PSTP, especially the Package 'Assessment Guidelines" and the Evidence Guide in each competency standard.

Contextualisation of Units of Competency

The MFB may contextualise units of competency to reflect organisational specific outcomes required. Contextualisation can involve additions or amendments to the unit of competency to suit particular delivery methods, learner profiles, specific organisational equipment requirements, or to otherwise meet specific needs. However, the integrity of the overall intended outcome of the unit of competency must be maintained.

Any contextualisation of units of competency in the PSTP must be within the bounds of the following advice. In contextualising units of competency, the MFB:

- must not remove or add to the number and content of elements and performance criteria;
- may add specific industry terminology to performance criteria where this does not distort or narrow the competency outcomes;
- may make amendments and additions to the range statement as long as such changes do not diminish the breadth of application of the competency and reduce its portability, and/or;
- may add detail to the evidence guide in areas such as the critical aspects of evidence or resources and infrastructure required where these expand the breadth of the competency but do not limit its use.

Implementing the Framework

The proposed Framework should be approached as a dynamic rather than static set of training programs that can be altered to meet emerging needs of the organisation. Any such alteration¹, however, must be established in a consultative process between the MFB and UFU.

The proposed framework is set out in Tables 1, 2 and 3 (see Appendix) of this document and identifies the requirements at each promotional level:

- Table 1 indicates all Unit requirements to achieve qualified firefighter status.
- Table 2 indicates the rank at which Units are completed. Units may however be commenced at ranks prior to this rank.
- Table 3 indicates additional MFB requirements at each level.

It is recommended that this Emergency Response Training Framework is implemented and complied with from the date in which it is endorsed by the MFB and UFU. Where organisational resources do not allow for the implementation of the Framework in line with this Report and Registered Training Organisation (RTO) requirements, the matter should be referred to a joint UFU / MFB consultative group so alternative arrangements can be established.

In determining the PSTP components required by the MFB, this process has also identified those Units that encompass MFB specific content. These are set out in Table 4 (see Appendix). These Units may be acquired externally and the MFB, as an RTO, is required to recognise any such credentials. However, where MFB specific knowledge and skills are required, individuals may be required to undertake further training and assessment to meet organisational specific requirements.

¹ Note: alteration refers to the alteration of the framework, guidelines, delivery methodology and resources developed to support the implementation of the framework.

3. The Deeming and Recognition Process

It is important that training previously delivered to MFB employees is recognised as this allows training to be targeted in the appropriate areas to avoid duplication of training already provided and prevent wasting MFB resources.

The appropriate method for large scale training recognition is the Deeming process. This is a method similar to credit transfer and recognises the training that personnel have received, forming a sound basis from which future training can be built. During a transition period into a new qualification framework, deeming can be used to recognise previous training that aligns to current standards. Although individual assessment criteria may not have been undertaken, a person may be deemed to comply with a Unit provided that they have demonstrated the objectives of the Unit.

In adopting the PSTP Qualifications, training previously provided to the MFB workforce must be recognised. As such, an essential step in the development of this project was the need to deem the existing workforce against the framework. The outcomes of this process were achieved through a number of stages and consultative processes as set out in Sections 1 and 2 above.

This process has ensured that personnel are appropriately recognised for previous training undertaken, and the regular practical workplace application of these skills over an extensive period of time. The integrity of official training recognition has not been compromised in this process.

Although the transition process has identified that the PSTP competencies are more explicit in some of their requirements than the previous modules, the identified gaps are all skills that firefighters have continuously demonstrated in undertaking their duties. Therefore these gaps are not an issue in the alignment process as the gaps simply articulate what has already been covered as a given in previous training.

When endorsement of the this Framework is achieved, all relevant personnel should have Units of Competency officially recognised according to their rank. This recognition will be in the form of a nationally recognised credential.

Individuals seeking recognition for any additional Units of Competency must apply for recognition using the Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) process.

4. Delivery Methodology

Recruits

This program is undertaken over a three year period. Firefighters are promoted to the rank of Qualified Firefighter (Continuation Training) as follows:

- Level 1 Firefighter (completion of recruits)
- Level 2 Firefighter (completion of one year service)
- Level 3 Firefighter (completion of two years service)
- Qualified Firefighter (completion of three year service)

Leading Firefighter

A flexible delivery approach encompassing a mixture of block release to be conducted at the training college and some self paced study supported by qualified workplace trainers and assessors. The training process will be managed by the Training and Education department.

Station Officer

A full time 14 week training program delivered entirely off shift. Admission onto the course is by application and selection process.

Senior Station Officer

A full time 13 week training program delivered entirely off shift. Admission onto the course is by application and selection process

Commander

A training program with a full time component to be undertaken at an agreed MFB Training Venue.

In the delivery of all promotional and specialist courses, training should be delivered and assessed by appropriately qualified Training and Education staff at the Training Complex and other venues that provide necessary equipment and resources.

Finally, skills should be acquired at a point where the individual then has the opportunity to apply them on the job. Individuals should not be encouraged to acquire skills they will be unable to use for up to several years. In such situations, lack of opportunity to apply skills on a regular basis may, over time, result in the inability to practically apply those skills.

Note: All resources supporting a given program within the framework should be made available prior to the beginning of the program. This will ensure that no staff member is disadvantaged as a result of the MFESB failing to have all resources available in time for delivery.

5. Recommendations

Recommendation 1

That the MFB and UFU adopt the Emergency Response Training Framework as set out in this document after undertaking all required processes involving relevant Committees, including EBIC.

That the Training Framework is implemented from the date of endorsement by all parties.

Recommendation 2

That the MFB immediately begins the process of adding the Public Safety Training Package Fire Sector Qualifications to its Scope of Registration.

Recommendation 3

Once the new qualifications are added to the Scope of Registration, that the MFB deem operational staff to be qualified in line with Table 2. This process should include the issuing of the relevant credentials.

Recommendation 4

That both the MFB and the UFU agree that no individual be disadvantaged as a result of the implementation of this ER Training Framework. All promotional programs both past and present shall hold equal weighting.

Recommendation 5

That the MFB and the UFU agree to the principles outlined in this document. Any alteration² or dispute arising from interpretation of these principles must be agreed using consultative mechanisms in place between the MFB and the UFU.

Recommendation 6

That implementation of this Framework is undertaken in compliance with the RTO status expectations of the MFB, and adheres to the requirements set out in the PSTP.

² Note: alteration refers to the alteration of the Framework, guidelines, delivery methodology and resources developed to support the implementation of the Framework.

SCHEDULE 17 - RECEP AGREED

RECEP

Prior to commencing any firefighting operations, you must consider and act on the following:

Size up and estimate of the situation (refer Ch.8 - Evaluation)

- Rescue
- Exposures
- Confinement
- Extinguishment
- Fire Duty

Everyone knows it, and everyone has used it. Every emergency you attend should be tackled with these rules, which will ensure a safe conclusion.

Rescue

After the safety of your firefighters, your next priority is that of the occupants. So what if you save a life and the building burns down! If lives are at risk, all efforts must be directed towards protecting and preserving life. Rescue operations are the most difficult and potentially confusing of all fireground activities. They require fast, effective decisions from the person in charge, and strong confident action from the rescue crew.

Rescue does not always refer to the obvious. It is not just the person screaming and waving frantically from the balcony; it might be the person who has fallen from the balcony, into the bushes and is unconscious. It might not be the person badly trapped in one vehicle, but the elderly occupant of the other, who looks fine but may be suffering a heart attack. In the heat of the moment, we might overlook their injuries and concentrate on the 'loudest'. So, how do we know who to go to first?

Fire victims fall into three categories:

1. Casualties outside the fire building

Usually conscious and able people who have saved themselves. They should be moved to an assembly area, to account for all inhabitants of the affected building.

2. Casualties trying to exit the fire building

These people may have had difficulty in saving themselves, and are usually in some state of panic, disorientation or injury. Their position is precarious, and therefore they require immediate attention.

3. Casualties still inside the fire building

This group may be unaware, trapped, overcome or somehow unable to save themselves. They are quite often unknown or unaccounted for. Their location within the building may be assumed, but not known definitely until a search is completed.

While accounting for casualties in categories 1 and 2, if resources permit, you will be attempting to locate and rescue those in category 3. This search takes place in two ways:

- Primary search – a rapid search of all involved and exposed areas affected by fire, which can be entered, to verify the removal and safety of all occupants
- Secondary Search – a thorough search of the interior fire area, after initial fire control, ventilation, and interior lighting are completed.

Following the primary search, the rescue priority order is:

- the most severely threatened
- the largest numbers of people
- the remaining fire area
- the exposed areas.

Rescue operations require fast, effective decisions by the Officer. Throughout size up and rescue, life safety is the number one priority.

Exposures

Assuming there are sufficient resources to handle those rescued, your attention now shifts towards minimising the potential damage to other areas. Exposures are any adjoining structures or properties not directly involved in a fire, but which are at risk of being damaged or burnt if a fire is not contained.

In the case of a fire, it might be the building next door, the gas cylinders in the workshop, stopping the spread of fire to the roof space, stopping the spread of fire through conduction, convection and radiation.

In the case of a chemical incident, it may be damming up drains, floating barriers on the surface of rivers, fog sprays to disperse a gas cloud or moving one chemical away from another.

Containment

Containment includes the operations used to prevent a fire spreading to uninvolved parts of the structure. Actions that you can take include:

- Recognising potential areas of spread and taking action to deal with them:
 - constructing fire breaks
 - removing fuel
 - extinguishing the fire
- Using cooling jet streams and sprays, such as water curtains, to protect other parts of the structure from being involved in the fire.

Extinguishment

Extinguishment involves putting out the fire. Some factors to be considered in the extinguishment of the fire are:

- Type of fuel involved – this will determine the type of extinguishing medium to be used
- The quantity of fuel involved – this will determine the quantity of extinguishing medium needed and the resources required to apply it
- The physical arrangement of the fuel – this will determine how the extinguishing medium is applied
- Location of fire and availability of equipment – this will determine how quickly fire suppression can be commenced
- The environment – consideration of whether the area is residential, industrial or commercial
- Access – this will determine how much equipment can be taken into the fire area
- Quantity, quality and availability - of the required extinguishing medium.

There are two strategies to employ when extinguishing the fire.

Offensive

An offensive strategy is when fire conditions allow you to conduct a direct attack. It is an aggressive approach to firefighting. In this situation, firefighters enter the structure or perimeter of the fire area with charged hose lines to locate and extinguish or confine the fire.

If it is decided that the offensive strategy is not achieving the required outcomes, or circumstances change, you may be given further directions to achieve the objective or withdraw. After withdrawal, a defensive strategy will commence.

Defensive

In a defensive strategy, fire streams may be placed between the fire and exposures, to prevent the spread of fire. It may mean operating exterior streams around a large or inaccessible fire that is burning itself out. During defensive firefighting operations, firefighters and crews do not normally enter the burning structure.

Fire Duty

Fire duty is a crucial stage. Often, it might be assumed the fire is out, when in fact it still smolders in the wall cavity or ceiling space.

Checking for fire extension in a building is time consuming. Firefighters can use rakes, ceiling hooks and shovels to turn debris over and spread it out. Ceiling hooks can open up ceiling and wall spaces to check for hidden hotspots.

At this stage, firefighters should be careful not to unnecessarily disturb or remove debris. Overhaul may impede investigation of a suspicious fire, as debris can often be a key source of information in a fire investigation, especially in the area where it is thought the fire originated. Gently spraying water on burning materials, rather than blasting them with a jet, will assist in the preservation of evidence.

Places where fire may smoulder unnoticed include padded furniture, such as beds, couches and chairs; and woodwork, such as window frames, joists and beams.

Ventilation and Salvage

Two other important stages of firefighting are Ventilation and Salvage. These are used at any stage during the fire, to improve firefighting conditions and prevent further damage.

Ventilation

Ventilation is the replacement of smoke or contaminated air in the structure with fresh air. The purpose of ventilation is to:

- prevent and reduce damage to the contents and structure from heat and smoke
- prevent the spread of fire by a build-up of heat
- eliminate or reduce the possibilities of flashover
- improve firefighting conditions by:
 - increasing visibility in the structure
 - providing a non-toxic atmosphere in which to work without BA
 - reducing temperatures inside the structure

There are two methods that may be used to ventilate a structure.

Natural ventilation

Natural ventilation involves opening windows, doors, remove cladding or roofing and allowing fresh air to circulate the structure.

Mechanical or pressurised ventilation

Mechanical or pressurised ventilation is a more complicated process. It is divided into two types, either negative or positive.

- Negative pressure involves using a fan to draw smoke through the fan to the outside
- Positive pressure pressurises the structure and forces the smoke out. Positive pressure ventilation (PPV) can be dangerous; therefore, each firefighter should have thorough training in this process prior to using positive pressure ventilation.

Salvage

Salvage includes the operations required to protect structures and contents from preventable damage, due to water, smoke, heat, steam, breakage, weather or theft.

Salvage operations are divided into two stages.

Operations performed during the fire:

- using the water effectively and efficiently
- replacing damaged or leaking hoses immediately
- minimising damage to the structure when entering
- moving contents from one room to another.

Operations after the fire:

- moving furniture and stock to safe places
- covering furniture, plant and machinery with salvage sheets or tarpaulins
- maintaining security after the event.

Safety

Introduction

Firefighting is a physically demanding and dangerous job. Fireground operations involve many inherent dangers and very real risks to the participants. These dangers include fire, smoke, toxic combustible products, electrocution, structural collapse, explosion, stress, vehicle accident, overexertion, equipment failure, and direct results of uncoordinated tactical activities. Fireground action should be the domain of the participants who are physically fit, mentally alert, healthy, properly trained, fully protected and equipped, and organised to perform in a safe and coordinated manner.

As the person in charge at an emergency, the safety of everyone involved is your primary goal through the phases of every situation. There are risks that come with each emergency, and it is your responsibility to recognise, manage and reduce these risks.

You are responsible for the safety of each firefighter, and the safety of the whole operation. Each firefighter is also responsible for their personal safety, as well as that of their fellow firefighters.

Safety Factors

The critical factors of a fireground safety program must include:

Command Attitude

Safety is a primary responsibility of the person in charge of the incident and the organisation

Firefighter Attitude

Everyone involved in the operation is concerned with safety and accepts personal responsibility

Standard Operating Procedures

These exist to set guidelines for safe procedures, and outline standard approaches to situations

Sector Officers

Fireground operations are directed and managed through Sector Officers, with a standard responsibility to manage safety

Safety Training

All firefighters are well-trained in safety practices and procedures

Health and Fitness

Each firefighter is in the appropriate physical and emotional condition to perform their task without compromising their own safety or that of others

Protective Clothing

Everyone wears full protective clothing when subjected to physical hazards

Breathing Apparatus

Everyone wears BA when operating in a contaminated atmosphere

Equipment and Apparatus

Well-maintained, properly designed equipment is provided to do the job safely and effectively

Risk Management

A limited amount of risk is accepted as part of the job, but every effort is made to avoid or minimise the risk present

Safety at an Emergency

Each individual is responsible for their own safety, as well as those they are working with. When you are in charge, you assume a certain level of responsibility for everyone's safety, and you have an obligation to ensure that all work is carried out in a safe manner. If you notice a safety procedure not being adhered to, or an individual ignoring a safety procedure, it is your responsibility to stop the person from proceeding with their actions, and to demonstrate, explain or remind them of safe workplace procedures.

Safety When Proceeding to a Call

It may sound pedantic, but safety starts before leaving the station, and there are a number of safety issues to consider from this point:

- full firefighting uniform available – boots, gloves, helmet
- wearing a seatbelt whilst appliance is in motion
- cuts and abrasions suitably covered to prevent infection
- the driver takes no excessive risk
- there are no loose objects in the cabin of the truck that can slide and injure crew
- firefighters enter and exit the appliance appropriately
- the crew is made aware of your expectations prior to arriving.

These considerations will ensure your crew gets to the emergency safely!

Safety on the Fireground

Safety on the fireground occurs at several different levels. It has been discussed how each individual is responsible for their own safety, and those working with them. The person in charge of the crew is responsible for the safety of the crew; and the Incident Controller and appointed Safety Officer are responsible for fireground safety at all emergencies.

Firefighters may be involved in incidents where you might encounter one or more of the following types of hazards:

- Thermal – hazards relating to the extremes of temperatures
- Mechanical – hazards resulting from direct contact with fragments scattered because of container failure, explosion or shock-wave
- Toxic – chemicals that damage or destroy body cells through inhalation, absorption or ingestion
- Corrosive – substances that destroy living tissue or cause chemical burns after exposure
- Asphyxiant – hazards that can deprive the body of oxygen

- Radioactive – sources that can have a genetic effect (changes to future generations), as well as somatic effects (physical injury)
- Etiological – micro-organisms that may cause human disease.

To ensure safe and efficient performance when involved in these types of emergencies, full protective clothing and correct procedures are required. Therefore, you need to be aware of:

- the degree of protection provided by each item
- the risks, and the situations in which each item is worn
- the correct procedures for use.

Safety considerations at an emergency consist of the following:

Personal Safety

Unrestricted access to:

- Protective gloves – latex, kevlar, electrical gloves, granulated
- Clothing – overpants, tunic, splash suits, fully encapsulated
- Footwear – GP boots, rubber gumboots
- Eye – goggles, visors
- Ear – ear plugs, ear muffs
- Head – helmets, visors
- Breathing – BA, face masks, dust masks.

Fireground Safety

Awareness of:

Structural weakness:

- leaning
- cracking
- twisting
- flexing
- groaning
- leaking (smoke through walls)

Structural failure:

- disappearing roof-mounted equipment
- bricks landing on street
- tilt slabs laying against others
- bowing floors
- collapsed roof structures

Environmental contamination:

- smoke colour
- strong/strange smells
- leaking of contaminants to air, water, drains
- gas/vapour cloud
- body fluids – blood, saliva, plasma

Physical hazards:

- live electrical power lines
- unstable structures, power poles, vehicles, contents
- falling objects
- flammable liquids
- explosive gases
- sharp objects – glass, metal, nails
- water plus electricity

Use of equipment:

- ladders
- B.A – SCBA, BG174, tally board, guidelines, personal distress device
- hose lines
- small gear and ropes and knots
- specialist appliances
- specialist equipment – air sampling etc

Firefighting tactics:

- method of attack – overhead, combination, direct, indirect
- extinguishing medium – foam, gas, water, fog
- aerial equipment and ground monitors

Other safety hazards:

- below-ground fires
- ship firefighting
- un-vented interior fires
- crews operating directly over fires (roof or upper floor)
- roof structures which may collapse suddenly
- exterior attack combined with interior attack
- limited egress/exit situations
- situations where fire can get behind fire crews
- change of wind direction

Safety following the Emergency

Pay particular attention to the following:

- Cleaning and maintenance of equipment used
- Cleaning and maintenance of firefighting uniform
- Injuries appropriately treated – cuts, burns, abrasions
- Debrief of activities – lessons learnt, faults identified, positives and negatives

Conclusion

The safety of you and your team members is each individual's primary concern. Regardless of the situation a casualty of an emergency is in, the professional firefighter does not put I, or their team members, in an unsafe situation when trying to rescue the injured. You only proceed when you have made the area safe, and you are certain that you will encounter minimal acceptable risk.

To ensure safety, you must reinforce safety programs, procedures, use of protective equipment and clothing, and safe operation of equipment and its maintenance. Any risks taken on the fireground must be controlled risks, justified to save lives and valued property. You must be constantly aware of the potential for danger, and continually monitoring the progress of your crew and the emergency.

Firefighting crews can become consumed with their individual tasks, and may not be aware of the 'bigger picture'. As the Incident Controller, this is your task, whether you are the first Leading Firefighter on-scene, or the Chief Executive Officer.

Breathing Apparatus Operational Procedures

Introduction

The purpose of the Breathing Apparatus (BA) is to make it possible for personnel to work in an unbreathable atmosphere. This chapter outlines the Operational Procedures that relates to the use of Open Circuit Breathing Apparatus.

Responsibility

Officer-in-Charge

The Officer-in-Charge (OIC) is responsible for ensuring that Firefighters and all other personnel who enter a hazardous atmosphere are properly protected.

Firefighter

All Firefighters are to ensure their own safety. Where there is a hazardous atmosphere risk, Firefighters need not wait for an order from the Incident Controller to use BA and/or other respiratory protection.

When to wear BA

Breathing Apparatus is to be donned at any alarm of fire or hazardous incident prior to investigation of the call.

The OIC, after assessing the risk, will determine whether BA will be used by the crew members. The OIC will also determine when BA is no longer required.

BA Stage 1 and 2

The Breathing Apparatus procedure is made up in two (2) stages—Stage 1 and Stage 2.

Stage 1

BA Stage 1 is implemented in situations where it has been necessary to use breathing apparatus. The BA entry point initially may or may not be supervised.

Duties of BA wearer (Stage 1 and 2)

The duties of the BA wearer are as follows:

- Remove tally from BA and place on tally board on each entry to the incident.
- Ensure 'Time in' details entered on the BA tally board.
- Ensure personal radio communication is utilised.
- Maintain check on BA for time out/low-air.
- Return tally to BA on completion of operation.
- Report to the BA service after collecting tallies from the BA entry (if one is in operation).

Duties of the Incident Controller

The duties of the Incident Controller are as follows:

- Communicate Stage 1 BA in operation in Wordback.
- Ensure adequate numbers of personnel dressed for emergencies.
- Determine and implement any communication procedure that may be required.
- Check status of tally board and BA operators at all times.

Stage 2

Stage 2 procedures shall be instituted for all fires and incidents where BA38 is in attendance, or where the Incident Controller determines that BA operations may be over a protracted period, under severe conditions or will involve the use of a number of BA operators. BA Stage 2 shall not be instigated unless BA38 is on scene.

The OIC will implement Stage 2 procedures.

- Attendance of BA38 will be requested (if not already in attendance).
- The Breathing Apparatus Officer (BAO) will establish an entry point. This will be known as the BA entry and have an Officer, or a nominated person, to take charge of it.
- If the situation demands more than one (1) entry point, a BA entry is to be established for each point of entry.
- Each BA entry should be identified in a distinctive way, e.g. BA Entry Sector 1.
- Each BA entry will be provided with a tally board to which will be attached the tallies of all BA operators operating from that point. The following additional information is to be recorded on the board in respect to each tally:
 - low-air / time of whistle
 - location of teams
- Each BA wearer is to hand their tally to the person in charge of BA entry before making any entry, and is to collect it on leaving.
- The tallies of Firefighters who may already be at work under Stage 1 procedure are to be transferred to the appropriate BA entry tally board by the person who was previously in charge. That person will then hand over responsibilities as directed.

i NOTE: The Emergency Signal Unit must be set up at all Stage 2 incidents/fires.

Duties of Breathing Apparatus Officer (BAO)

The duties of the BAO are as follows.

- To supervise BA service, entry points and all BA requirements.
- Set up the Emergency Signal Unit (ESU).
- To have available an adequate number of Firefighters dressed in BA as reliefs, and to order them to the appropriate BA entry in time to enable those points to carry out their responsibilities.
- To liaise with BA entry, BA service.
- To liaise with the Incident Controller and Operations Officer on BA strategies and tactics and send periodic reports to the IMT.

Duties of BA entry

The duties of the person in charge of BA entry are as follows:

- To ensure the BA entry point has a tally board and the tallies of BA operators operating from that point.
- To ensure that Firefighters are relieved at the appropriate time according to the record.
- To have sufficient Firefighters standing by for relief purposes throughout the time the BA entry is operating.
- To have at least two (2) Firefighters standing by dressed in BA for emergency purposes.
- To initiate emergency measures when necessary, e.g. Firefighters failing to report when due out.
- Send periodic reports to the BAO indicating the number of BA in use, personal requirements.

A BA service facility is to be set up at the most convenient site for easy access and communication with all BA entry points.

i NOTE: Evacuation Signals

Evacuation

- Three short blasts at one second duration each.
- Quiet or cease operations
- One continuous blast for three seconds.

Resume operations

- One blast for three seconds, followed by a one second blast.
- At the completion of each signal, a pause of three seconds shall occur and then the signal sequence shall be repeated continuously until it is determined the signal can cease.

NB: The use of these signals does not negate the need for the evacuation order to be relayed via radio transmission on the fireground.

Duties of BA service

The duties of BA service are as follows:

- To meet the service requirements of BA and other equipment.
- Ensure that sufficient equipment is available for the servicing of BA.
- Send periodic reports to the BAO.

When BA operators withdraw, after collecting their tallies from the BA entry, they must report to the BA service (if one is in operation).

Change of shift procedures for BA Operators

It shall be the duty of the Firefighters at change of shift to perform the following tasks:

- Carry out general checks of BA.
- Record relevant information on the tallies (name of wearer, station number and cylinder pressure).
- Check that tally board is in order and available for use (clock and chinagraph pencil).
- Check time on tally board corresponds with time on Station Turn Out (STO) system in the watchroom, make necessary adjustments to tally board clock if required.
- Check that personal lines and guidelines are available.
- Report result of check to Officer-in-Charge.

Duties of BA Operators

The duties to be followed by BA Operators are as follows:

- BA must be donned in fresh air.
- Ensure personal radios are on the designated fireground channel.
- Remove the tally from the Bodyguard Unit.
- BA Operators are not to enter a building without depositing their tallies at a BA entry.
- BA Operators are to work in teams of at least two (2).
- When the cylinder pressure gauge of the BA, worn by a member of a team, reaches a pre-determined level at which the Operator is required to withdraw, or the cylinder low-air warning signal operates, the Operator must come out accompanied by at least one (1) other member of the team.
- When the Distress Signal Unit (DSU) is sounded, all persons hearing the signal will proceed toward the sound of the signal. Rendering assistance is to take precedence over the work in hand.
- Guidelines are to be used only on the instruction of the OIC.
- On the operation of the evacuation alarm, all crews will withdraw immediately.
- The operation of the Emergency Signal Unit or vehicle air horn will continue to operate until evacuation is complete or as deemed necessary.
- On leaving they must report to the BA entry and collect their tallies. There must be a separate record for each re-entry.

SCHEDULE 20 - CONDUCT RESOLUTION [NOT [AGREED]

Formatted: Highlight

The conduct resolution process and code of conduct is as follows:

- MFB Operational Employees Code of Conduct (Conduct Resolution Process)
- Principles
- The guiding principle for conduct resolution is that of transformative justice, a contemporary extension of restorative justice.
- The aims and intent of this process is to seek to resolve matters in a cooperative manner and meet the needs of all parties concerned.
- The core aim of transformative justice is not only to assist and support employees and employers in restoring their conduct or behaviour, repairing harm and reconciliation but also transforming all parties for the better.
- A core stream of transformative process in building a better and more efficient workplace behaviour environment is for the employer to provide educational and training support to the employee. There are other forms of support and assistance which may be agreed to by the parties.
- The demanding roles within the emergency services workplace are particularly recognised by all parties in the application of this process.
- The roles of the parties concerned and addressing the needs of the parties in resolving any conflict is important to this process.
- Procedure
- General
- Steps
- 7 steps are outlined below. Where a matter arises under the process, the steps shall be followed by the parties sequentially from step 1 through to step 7.

The parties must genuinely attempt to seek a resolution at each step.

- Legalistic Complexity
- This procedure is administrative in nature and therefore must be non legalistic and provided for with as little technicality and complexity as possible. Nonetheless the employee is entitled to have a representative (including from their union) to provide support, advice and advocacy throughout the procedure.
- Procedural Fairness and Natural Justice
- The employer must comply with the principles of natural justice or procedural fairness.
- Recording Devices
- Recording devices shall not be used under this process unless agreed by all parties.
- Application
- This process applies to all concerns (including allegations and complaints) which arise in relation to the conduct of MFB employees. The process applies where a complaint has been lodged with an employees management or the MFB in relation to the conduct of an employee. The process applies where the MFB develops a concern as to the conduct of an employee which cannot be resolved through day to day management.
- The aim is to reach a mutually acceptable agreement which addresses the harm caused by any actions of the parties, restores conduct or behaviour, reconciles the parties and also transform all parties for the better. It is recognised that some transformative justice outcomes may not achieve all or any of these aims.
- Parties
- Parties to a specific matter may include the employer, the employee, an employee representative and other employees or persons external to the organisation.
- Confidentiality
- Confidentiality and openness remain of central importance to the process. Therefore at any step should a party raise and insist on the reliance of any information arising from earlier steps within the process it shall be deemed that they have waived their right to allege harm to themselves or others.

- The requirements of confidentiality must be explained to any party when they join the process in any capacity.
- Conduct and matters discussed during each step of the process are also without prejudice to parties at subsequent steps.
- Conflict of Interest and apprehension of bias
- Where any employer representative may have any conflict of interest or be biased or where their attendance may raise an apprehension of bias that representative must withdraw themselves from the process. Where such representative does not withdraw themselves, any outcome resulting from the process and against an employee shall be voided.
- Disagreement with decisions
- At every step at which an independent decision maker/s makes a decision or recommendation, the employee has a right to disagree with this decision or recommendation and have their position recorded in writing.
- Dealing with unfounded allegations or complaints
- At every step within the procedure where it is found by the employer, mediator, working group, investigator, tribunal or the appeal panel that the complaint or allegation is unfounded, then the procedure ceases immediately.
- If it is found during the procedure that the employer proceeded through this process unjustifiably then the actions of the employer representatives must be put through the process.
- Withdrawal of the complaint
- Should the complainant choose at any time to withdraw their complaint, then the procedures herein immediately cease, and shall not be further pursued by the employer.
- Recording of transformative justice outcomes
- A transformative justice outcome will not be recorded on the employees personnel file.
- Step 1 - Assessment
- When a matter is brought to the attention of the employer, the employer must consider any allegations based on the evidence provided and the seriousness of the allegations. All information provided to the employer must immediately be provided to any employees concerned.

- The employers consideration must be solely confined to whether any allegations if proven would constitute inappropriate employee conduct and whether the complaint may be vexatious or made without any reliable grounds.
- Any assessment to proceed beyond this step, does not constitute a determination in any way that the allegation/s is true or that the allegations or complaint have merit.
- Step 2 - Informal resolution
- At the commencement of this step, the employer must appoint an independent delegate. The delegate shall have complete autonomy in resolving the matter in any way so long as such methods and outcomes are in accordance with the principles of this process.
- The delegate must contact the employee and attempt informal resolution.
- Step 3 - Transformative Mediation
- Under this step a trained and agreed (via enterprise agreement consultation) independent mediator facilitates transformative justice mediation.
- The parties then participate in a number of conferences regarding the allegations, aimed at covering the needs of all parties.
- A trained and agreed independent mediator will regulate their own procedures in consultation and with the agreement of the parties.
- The mediation process may in particularly sensitive or confidential circumstances not involve all parties being present at the mediation.
- The aim is to reach a mutually acceptable agreement which addresses the harm caused by any actions of the parties, restores conduct or behaviour, reconciles the parties and also transform all parties for the better.
- It is desirable and intended where possible that the mediator withdraws from the conference or subsequent conferences and allows the parties to reach ultimate resolution on their own.
- Should the matter benefit from it, and where agreed by the employee, additional personnel from the workplace may participate in this process.
- Step 4 - Conduct Working Group
- Should mediation not resolve the matter, the employee and complainant shall attend the Conduct Working group. This Working Group shall comprise an independent convenor agreed by the employees and employer, an employer nominated person and a person nominated by the MFB employees.

- All Working Group persons shall be provided intensive and agreed training in transformative justice techniques.
- The Working Group shall discuss the matter with both the employee and complainant. The Working Group shall seek to resolve the matter via discussion with the parties and via transformative justice techniques.
- Should a resolution not be arrived at by agreement between the complainant and employee, the Working Group shall make a recommendation to the parties as to resolving the matter.
- The employee may accept the resolution recommended by the Working Group.
- Where the recommendation is not accepted, and where an employee has had a criminal offence found proven against them or has had a prior history of going through a transformative justice process for the same breach of workplace conduct within a twelve month time period, the employer may commence with a formal investigation.
- Step 5 - Investigation
- Mediation during the investigation step, the following workplace tribunal step or the following appeal panel step shall be made available to seek agreed resolutions to matters at any point or time within the process.
- An investigation will only commence when the employee has had a criminal offence found proven against them or has had a prior history of going through a transformative justice process for the same breach of workplace conduct within a twelve month time period.
- Where such requirements are met and the previous transformative justice processes have not resulted in an outcome, the employer may proceed with a formal investigation into allegations.
- Such investigation shall comply with the principles of natural justice and procedural fairness. The fundamental basis of natural justice is the twin pillars of natural justice, that is, a person is entitled to hear from their accuser and to appear before a person who is not biased. J.R.S. Forbes Justice in Tribunals (4th Edition) must be used as a guide in regards to natural justice.

- The investigator shall be independent of the employer and employee and shall be drawn from an agreed board of investigators.
- The investigator shall meet with the employee for an interview after the complainant and other witnesses have already met with the investigator. Prior to the employee meeting with the investigator, all witnesses statements, material provided from the complainant and witnesses and any notes or records of discussions with witnesses shall be provided to the employee.
- Interviews under this step shall only be recorded where an employee consents.
- There is no compulsion to answer any questions during an interview and a refusal to respond must not be considered to indicate any view or position held by an employee or as indicative of the facts under investigation in any way.
- At the conclusion of the investigation a written draft report shall be prepared and provided in full to the employees to whom the allegations are directed. A written response shall be sought from the employee within a reasonable timeframe.
- Where an investigator concludes that allegations against the employee are affirmed, following consideration of any employee response and subject to any employer consideration and outcome arising from the employees response, the employer will provide to the employee its recommended outcome.
- The parties shall then meet on a without prejudice and confidential basis to attempt to reach a mutually agreed outcome with the assistance of an independent mediator. At this step, the parties may recommence a transformative mediation and subsequent resolution. Where this is not achieved, by agreement the employee and their representative may agree to a sanction with the employer.
- Step 6 - Conduct Tribunal
- The Conduct Tribunal will hear and determine matters when the employee has had a criminal offence found proven against them or where the employee has had two or more prior histories of going through a transformative justice process for the same breach of workplace conduct within a two year time period.
- At such tribunal, as well as considering the facts in relation to the alleged conduct, the tribunal must seek details from the employee of any mitigating circumstances and consider these in its deliberations.

- The workplace tribunal and appeal panel shall work in accordance with agreed (via enterprise agreement consultation or bargaining) and transparent processes, which are explained in detail and made available to the employees and their unions. All decisions of the tribunal and appeal panel shall be in writing and similarly made available.
- All decisions of the tribunal and appeal panel must be consistent with previous decisions. Where it is demonstrable that the findings and actions against employees are not in line with the employers actions towards similar behaviour of senior managers is not consistent, then findings and actions against such employees shall be voided.
- Sanctions that are open to the Conduct Tribunal are listed as follows:
 - Transformative Justice
 - Reprimand
 - Termination of employment
- Step 6- Appeal Panel
- Where the employee seeks to challenge a decision of the workplace tribunal, the matter shall be submitted to the tribunal Appeal Panel. The Appeal Panel shall comprise an independent chair, an employer nominated member and an employee nominated member.
- The panel shall hear the matter de novo and must follow the same procedures as the Conduct Tribunal.
- Disputes
- Disputes relating to this process or any concerns as to its non-observance shall be lodged through the dispute resolution process under the enterprise agreement.

SCHEDULE 21 - RETURN TO WORK [NOT AGREED]

Formatted: Highlight

The parties agree to the following matters and principles:

The MFB will ensure employees are provided 'meaningful work' whilst an employee is injured/ill and after injury/illness.

MFB will ensure there is communication with injured/ill workers during the period of their Return to Work.

There will be tri party (employee, union and employer) consultation for 'special' cases identified by the UFU.

MFB will ensure a speedy return to work process for injured employees.

MFB will ensure and provide retraining and skills maintenance where agreed with the UFU that such is required.

MFB will provide light duties for injured or ill employees.

MFB will reimburse employees for their attendance at medical practitioners of the employees' choosing.

Whilst employees are ill or injured the MFB will maintain all wages and conditions including allowances.

Objectives

The MFB acknowledges their obligations under state and federal legislation as they relate to the provision of safe systems of work and Return to Work (RTW) for employees, including but not limited to the following:

Accident Compensation Act 1985 (Vic)

Occupational Health and Safety Act 2004 (Vic)

And associated Regulations

The purpose of these Principles is to complement those obligations as well as the obligations set out at Schedule 3 of the Agreement (i.e. in the Occupational Health & Safety Policy and Processes Agreement).

The parties recognise that every injury and its effects on an injured employee will be different and consequently every RTW program, while it must comply with the requirements of the relevant Act, must be tailored to the individual needs of the employee concerned

The parties recognise the diversity of the workforce and the varying abilities and types of employees. Accordingly, the process of rehabilitation and RTW must be aimed at returning people to meaningful and decent work irrespective of either a psychological or physical injury. No exit strategies are to be considered.

Prevention

The parties agree that prevention of workplace injury is paramount and they will implement measures committed to achieving this goal.

When a Claim is Lodged

The parties recognise that efficient and timely intervention and processing of RTW claims greatly contributes to a successful and positive RTW experience for all concerned.

Ongoing Communication and Contact

The parties recognise the frustration and anxiety employees often feel when they are returning to work after an injury.

Accordingly, local management will as a minimum maintain regular (weekly) contact with the injured worker to help facilitate their RTW unless the employee requests less regular contact.

Listening to and seeking the input of injured employees is required.

It is recommended that the injured worker will be regularly supported by visiting their medical practitioner or an adequate rehabilitation provider of their choice for continuity of treatment and history. The MFB will bear all such costs. The MFB cannot direct workers to use particular medical or rehabilitation providers, such providers are to be determined by the individual employee.

The employer should develop a checklist for the injured worker as to what information is legally required for accessing benefits and assistance to make visits and the RTW process as productive and efficient as possible.

Meaningful Work

The parties agree that a RTW plan must include 'meaningful work' and this will ultimately be determined and agreed between the employee and their union and the employer.

The parties agree that 'meaningful work' includes:

Work suited to the worker, taking into account the cause of injury

Work that is consistent with and incorporated into RTW duties as identified in the RTW plan

Work that is agreed between the injured worker and their treating medical practitioner

In the first instance, work that can be performed during the employees pre injury hours of work

Work to ensure workers can return as soon as possible to their full potential and capacity within their community, family and employment

Work which is determined without regard to the insurers cost assessments

Allowances

Workers on RTW at a work location other than the pre-injury location will be entitled to the Travel Allowance and all out of pocket expenses to and from employment/home.

An injured worker will not lose any pay including Base pay and any pre injury allowances while on any 'return to work'.

An injured worker may nominate a representative (Union member/HSR etc) to provide them with support who will require time release to attend meetings, medical examinations, employer meetings with or on behalf of the injured employee.

In accordance with the Accident Compensation Act 1985, the injured worker shall be reimbursed for out of pocket expenses for attending these appointments including, but not limited to, time release, travel, parking, medical costs etc.

Training

The parties recognise that UFU representatives, HSR's and direct line managers are key people in the successful RTW process. The MFB agrees to release employees for training and reimburse training costs to provide specific RTW training to all concerned.

REHABILITATION

Whilst an employee is absent or on modified duties/hours, the MFB will ensure that their normal work is undertaken and that it will not be required to be caught up upon the employees return.

The employer in consultation with the union shall where practicable undertake any workplace or individual workstation modification recommended by a treating medical practitioner/rehabilitation provider. Such modifications shall be undertaken as agreed between the union and the employer but in any case before the incapacitated worker returns to the job.

A worker returning to work on a trial basis shall be permitted to cease work at any time for the purposes of seeking further advice from a doctor, rehabilitation provider or union. Before leaving the workplace the worker shall report to the supervisor.

All suitable employment proposed by the employer will be proposed in writing and will include a detailed description of the proposal and be in accordance with recommendations made by the rehabilitation providers and treating medical practitioners.

The employer shall make every effort to find selected duties in line with the workers doctor or rehabilitation providers recommendation.

A monitoring committee to be approved by the MFB/UFU Consultation Committee is to be comprised of union and management representative and will be formed to monitor the implementation of this agreement and oversee all individual rehabilitation programs to ensure timely and effective rehabilitation of injured workers.

Rehabilitation should provide for the total cost of all medical, rehabilitation and other expenses including special aids, childcare, domestic assistance, motor-vehicle and house alterations incurred by the worker.

The MFB will ensure that the delivery of benefits is speedy, efficient and fair. The MFB accept that delayed payment and treatment will result in physical, psychological and financial hardship to injured workers. The provisions of this agreement requiring the timely payment of allowances and overtime apply also to these payments and treatment.

ACCS

All members should be made aware of the free ACCS (Accident Compensation Conciliation Service).
